INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Board of Directors
County of Otsego Industrial Development Agency
242 Main Street
Oneonta, New York

We have audited the accompanying statements of net position of County of Otsego Industrial Development Agency ("COIDA"), a component unit of Otsego County, New York, as of December 31, 2014 and 2013, and the related statements of revenues, expenses and changes in net position, and statements of cash flows and the related notes for the years then ended.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatements.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to COIDA's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of COIDA's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the respective financial position of COIDA as of December 31, 2014 and 2013, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Other Matters

Accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America require that the Management Discussion and Analysis on Pages 4 – 9 be presented to supplement the basic financial statements. Such information, although not a part of the basic financial statements, is required by the Governmental Accounting Standards Board, who considers it to be an essential part of financial reporting for placing the basic financial statements in an appropriate operational, economic, and historical context. We have applied certain limited procedures to the required supplementary information in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, which consisted of inquiries of management about the method of preparing the information and comparing the information for consistency with management's responses to our inquiries, the basic financial statements, and other knowledge we obtained during our audits of the basic financial statements. We do not express an opinion or provide any assurance on the information because the limited procedures do not provide us with sufficient evidence to express an opinion or provide any assurance.

Our audits are conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on COIDA's financial statements as a whole. The supplemental information on Pages 22 – 26 in the other financial information section is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the financial statements, but is supplemental information that is required by the Office of New York State Comptroller. The schedules are the responsibility of management and were derived from and relates directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements. The information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the financial statements and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements or to the financial statements themselves, and other additional procedures with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. In our opinion, the information is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the financial statements as a whole.

Other Reporting Required by Government Auditing Standards

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we have also issued our report dated March 30, 2015 on our consideration of COIDA's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements and other matters. The purpose of that report is to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over financial reporting and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on internal control over financial reporting or on compliance. That report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards in considering COIDA's internal control over financial reporting and compliance.

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

As the financial management of the County of Otsego Industrial Development Agency (“COIDA”), we offer readers of these financial statements this narrative overview and analysis of the financial activities for COIDA for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2014. This discussion and analysis is designed to assist the reader in focusing on the significant financial issues and activities and to identify any significant changes in financial position. COIDA encourages its readers to consider the information presented here in conjunction with the financial statements taken as a whole.

Budget

COIDA budgets its operating income and expenses each year. COIDA’s primary source of income is generated through lease payments on buildings it owns in the Pony Farm Industrial Park, interest income on loans and fees for services including sale/leaseback agreements.

Expenses for COIDA comprise mostly of general agency operations including development of and maintenance for the Pony Farm Industrial Park, professional service fees, staff and leased office space. COIDA did have employees for the first time in 2014; for years prior to that, COIDA’s executive and clerical support was provided by the Otsego County Economic Development Department.

Overview of the Financial Statements

This discussion and analysis accompanies COIDA’s financial statements, including notes to the financial statements and the reports on compliance and internal control to help the reader better understand the financials.

Financial Statements

COIDA’s financial statements provide readers with a comprehensive reporting of COIDA’s 2014 transactions and balances. The difference between the assets and liabilities are reported as net position. Increases or decreases in net position are an indicator of strengthened or weakened financial position.

Notes to the Financial Statements

The notes provide additional information that is essential to a full understanding of the data provided in the basic financial statements.

Financial Analysis

Operating income for COIDA was ($771,587) for fiscal year 2014, compared to $44,562 for the fiscal year 2013. This represents a decrease in revenue of $20,096 and an increase in expenses of $796,053. The revenue increase was mainly caused by an increase of $50,073 in rental income and other income and a decrease of $70,169 in interest income on notes and fees. The increase in expenses was mostly related to an increase in expenses for consulting and professional fees of $236,027, bad debt expense in the amount of $352,518, salaries and wages of $122,418 and maintenance of soccer fields of $25,000. At the close of fiscal year 2014, COIDA had net position of $6,157,614, an increase of $1,389,474 from the prior year. The term “net position” refers to the difference between assets and liabilities.

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

COIDA's prime objective is to provide assistance to existing businesses, expansions and business startups with professional assistance, tax incentives, educational programs and access to capital for the purposes of creating jobs and economic development activity within Otsego County. The loan funds are comprised of investments dedicated to this purpose and matching funds from COIDA's accumulated working capital. The revolving loan fund in COIDA's statement of net position is the major asset. For COIDA's loan funds, the financial statement shows a net decrease of $498,276 from $1,180,345 at year-end 2013 to $682,069 at year-end 2014.

COIDA's current major capital assets are the former Soccer Hall of Fame property in Oneonta, the Pony Farm Industrial Park in Oneonta, and property in Richfield Springs for a future industrial park. These projects are concurrent with COIDA's objectives of encouraging economic development in the county.

ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Activities:

Transition

In 2014, COIDA formally separated its operations from those of Otsego County, which had provided staff and office space on a contractual basis to the Agency since COIDA was formed. In January, COIDA hired its first employee, Elizabeth Horvath, as COO, and entered into a three-year contract for professional services with Alexander "Sandy" Mathes, Jr., to serve as CEO. In May, COIDA moved into leased office space at 189 Main Street in Oneonta, having outfitted the offices with desks, computers, etc., and in June, hired Dawn Rivers to act as Director, overseeing workforce development activities and exploring the possibility of establishing an incubator in COIDA's offices. In August, COIDA hired an executive assistant to support the professional staff. COIDA has now established payroll procedures and employee procedures that were unnecessary before early 2014. The financial result of these changes can be seen most prominently in increases in contractual expenses, salary and benefits, and leased office space and fixed asset acquisitions.

COIDA hired Paperkite Creative to help the Agency develop a brand, logo and marketing materials, including a high-functioning website that will be used as a marketing and development tool to reach site selectors and to recruit new business to the area in support of our increased business development efforts.

COIDA's Board continued to meet on a monthly basis to address the Agency's governance and projects, and as a new and improved practice, the Audit & Finance Committee, and the Project Committee, began to meet monthly as well, in the first case to thoroughly review financials and the loan portfolio, and in the latter case to address the complexities of various development projects underway. Oversight of the Agency's operations has thus dramatically increased in frequency and content across 2014.

Towards the end of 2014, COIDA migrated its financials from Sage/Peachtree to QuickBooks, running both systems in parallel for a few months before migrating solely to QuickBooks in early 2015. Use of QuickBooks has enabled COIDA staff, working with Jim Lozano, President of CFO for Hire, to create more granular methods to (1) categorize expenses accurately, (2) track expenses and revenues against budget, (3) track financials by class (for example, Pony Farms Industrial Park, Richfield Springs, the Center); further, the general ledger was reformatted to provide better reporting information to the Board. The correcting entries that needed to be addressed during the audit were as a result of the migration and transition as described above. It is believed that the new system is now operational and should limit or eliminate these errors going forward.

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

Staff met individually with COIDA loan clients, particularly those with delinquent loans, and worked to re-establish a payment stream, successfully in some cases. COIDA's loan portfolio has become healthier as a result. The Agency also made loan-loss reserve provisions towards the end of 2014 that reflect the Agency's asset values more accurately than in years past, which resulted in a bad debt expense of $444,485.

In 2014, dozens of businesses made inquiries into economic development services. Many of the businesses were directed to the Small Business Development Center for assistance with creating business plans. Businesses requested information to source financing to start or expand their businesses or locating appropriate buildings or properties.

COIDA worked directly with Larry's Custom Meats, Brewery Ommegang, Springbrook, Pathfinder Village, Custom Electronics, IOXUS, Siemens, Northern Eagle, Brooks, Olli's Farm and many other companies throughout 2014.

Susquehanna Regional Center for Growth

In the spring of 2014, COIDA's Board approved the hiring of Dawn Rivers as Director of the Center, which is designed to partner with educational entities K-16 regionally to create workforce "pipelines" for existing and anticipated businesses in Otsego County. The Center has received $200,000 in CDBG funds for training activities, and is anticipated to receive $100,000 from ESD in 2015 to equip the Center with technology and desks to accommodate classes. The Center is working directly with existing businesses in the County to identify workforce development needs and to create curricula to address them, specifically with Pathfinder Village, Burt's Rigid Box and Corning as "pilot programs."

Grants

In June of 2014, COIDA applied for several grants through the State's CFA process, and for CDBG "set-asides," and was successful with seven: $200,000 for its workforce development initiative, $200,000 to create an Agriculture Microenterprise Grant fund for small agribusinesses, $400,000 for Springbrook to rehabilitate a number of its group homes, $105,000 for Northern Eagle to purchase hops-related equipment, $60,000 for Morris Tent to expand its operations, $58,000 to develop a comprehensive strategic plan for Cooperstown in order to provide development opportunities, and $47,500 to complete a comprehensive study of rehabilitation of Oneonta's Rail Yards. The County Board has given COIDA sub recipient status for the six grants for which the County was the named applicant, and COIDA will manage these throughout 2015 to the benefit of the local economy and three individual firms.

In addition, two priority projects identified in the Mohawk Valley Region for COIDA – the development of an Agricultural Hub on Market Street in Oneonta, and the feasibility, planning and development of a potential site plan and infrastructure for the Richfield Business Park – were identified at the end of 2014 as being eligible for, and likely to receive, funding from a new ESD fund, the MVREDC "Momentum Fund." COIDA expects positive news on this front in early 2015.

Cooperstown Plan

COIDA funded the first phase of the development of a strategic and revitalization plan for Cooperstown, in order to identify development nodes, attract new business and revitalize the Main Street and greater community.

Investment

In early 2014, COIDA approved an investment in Brooks' Bottling Plant for $150,000 for necessary equipment purchases in order to expand and add several jobs to the company.

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

Education

Staff attended NYS EDC continuing-education conferences, and the COO completed both the IEDC's Basic Economic Development course as well as Empire State's Accounting for Decision-Makers course.

Real Property:

Former Soccer Hall of Fame

At the end of 2014, COIDA acquired from OCDC the former Soccer Hall of Fame property (appraised independently by the Olin Group at $2,320,000). COIDA continues to lease the building to IOXUS, and has a contract in place for 2015 with Oneonta Youth Soccer Association, in which OYSA agrees to maintain the fields, bleachers, scoreboards, etc. in exchange for use of the fields for games and tournaments (thus making use of the fields available to teams throughout New York). Effort continues to identify strategies to expand the use of these facilities in the shoulder and winter seasons.

Projects:

Richfield Springs Business Park Development

Richfield Springs continues to be an attractive area for economic development, particularly given its access to Route 20, proximity to Utica and Interstate 88, and substantial infrastructure. COIDA continues to possess its plot of real property in Richfield Springs, and in 2014 signed a two-year option to purchase a parcel of more than 100 acres in Richfield. COIDA will spend the first half of 2015 pursuing feasibility, archeological and engineering studies to determine the viability of this parcel for future development.

Pony Farms Industrial Park

With Delaware Engineering, COIDA spent much of 2014 getting its parcels of land in the Pony Farms Park "shovel-ready;" COIDA expects to begin aggressively marketing these parcels in 2015.

Broadband Development

Lack of county-wide broadband access has been a long-standing barrier to economic development. In 2014, COIDA terminated a relationship with a last-mile broadband provider due to failure to perform, and as a result had to forego the $550,000 Connect NY grant that had been awarded in 2013. Instead, in order to pursue blanketing the County with 10 down/1 up broadband service, COIDA commissioned FARR Technologies to create a thorough broadband implementation, feasibility and cost study for broadband rollout. COIDA has used FARR's findings to create a partnership between Otsego Electric Cooperative, Middleburgh Telco, Otsego County and itself to implement broadband services in Otsego County, and to seek grants and other sources of financing, possibly in conjunction with Schoharie County, in 2015.

Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics (STEM) Initiatives

COIDA continued to assist with the implementation of Project-Lead-the-Way into the Milford School District by providing financial support ($10,000) to Creating Opportunity in Rural Education (CORE), for teacher training and certification. Milford School District is the first school in Otsego County to be offering this nationwide, STEM centered curriculum.

Rail Industrial Side Project

A project begun in late 2012 to explore adding additional rail siding to the D&H rail yard continued to be pursued. Grant funding for a study will move this project forward aggressively in 2015.

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

PILOTS

Otsego County Health Facilities Corporation (OCHFC)

The OCHFC was sold to Phoenix Mills Realty in the Fall of 2014, and COIDA conferred the already-approved PILOT on the new entity. Otsego County had been running at a loss of approximately $8mm/year operating OCHFC; the PILOT is expected to preserve dozens of jobs at the facility, and enable Otsego County to regain a solid financial footing.

Brooks Realty

COIDA received an application for financial assistance from Brooks Realty, in order to freeze real property taxes to help the entity absorb an unexpected $1,000,000 expense to create a wastewater treatment plant. COIDA's board finalized approval of this PILOT in early 2015, and the PILOT is expected to enable Brooks to retain 100 full-time jobs in its Oneonta operations.

Northern Eagle

In the late summer of 2014, COIDA approved a sale/leaseback agreement with Northern Eagle Beverages, to provide critical financial assistance for the company's $9,550,000 project to build a new warehouse, office space, brewery, brew pub and tasting room on its Browne Street property. The PILOT is expected to close in 2015.

Economic Factors

2014 continued to be a difficult economic environment, on the global, national and local level. Locally, most businesses are not growing, and the population is stagnant or declining, making growth all the more challenging. Commercial lending continued to lag, hampering the access to capital many businesses need for growth and stability. However, throughout the year, COIDA continued to reach out to existing businesses for growth opportunities and to identify business retention cases. Agribusiness and growth in the downtown Oneonta and Cooperstown areas continue to be of significant focus for economic activity during the year.

As the 2014 year closed, our goals remain in conjunction with Governor Cuomo's Regional Economic Development Councils and the commitment to streamline economic development agencies and programs, develop regional strategic plans and build a pipeline for targeted economic development initiatives.

Year Ended December 31, 2014

NOTE 1 ORGANIZATION

The County of Otsego Industrial Development Agency (COIDA) was organized May 1, 1973 by the Otsego County Legislature under the authority of General Municipal Law, Section 856.1A of the State of New York. COIDA is a component unit of Otsego County, New York, based on the criteria set forth in Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) Statement 14 and as amended by GASB Statement 39.

COIDA was established to provide professional assistance, educational programs and loans for existing business expansions, business startups in Otsego County to encourage plant modernization, to create job opportunities and promote commerce and industry.

Related Entity

In 2009, the County of Otsego formed the Otsego County Capital Resource Corporation (OCCRC) to facilitate the issuance of civic facility revenue bonds. COIDA and OCCRC are considered related entities because they have similar board members and staff. However, OCCRC does not meet requirements of GASB to be considered a component unit of the COIDA.

NOTE 2 SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The financial statements of COIDA have been prepared in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States (U.S. GAAP). Significant accounting policies are:

Measurement Focus and Basis of Accounting

COIDA uses the measurement focus and basis of accounting as appropriate for proprietary funds. Measurement focus refers to what it measured and reported in the financial statements, while basis of accounting determines when a transaction or economic event is recognized.

COIDA is similar to a business enterprise, and utilizes a measurement focus based on the flow of economic resources. This includes the capitalization of fixed assets, charging depreciation expense and recording long-term debt as a liability. Accordingly, COIDA uses an accrual basis of accounting which recognizes revenues and expenses when they occur, regardless of cash flow.

Notes Receivable

Notes receivable are shown net of the allowance for uncollectible accounts in accordance with U.S. GAAP. Receivables for loans and mortgages are reviewed periodically by management to update the allowance for uncollectible amounts. These provisions are estimated based on an analysis of the aging of the receivable and any other factors known by management.

Year Ended December 31, 2014

NOTE 2 SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont'd.)

Fee Income and Grant Accounting

Fee income and grant accounting are recorded as receivables, liabilities and expenses, when awarded. All other grants are recorded as receivables and deferred revenues upon award of the contracts; revenues are recognized as COIDA meets performance requirements of the contracts. COIDA charges a service fee for each project, the proceeds of which are intended to be used for COIDA expenses and to fund continuing operations.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

For purpose of the statements of cash flows, COIDA considers all highly liquid debt instruments purchased with a maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

Fixed Assets

COIDA uses the accounting policy of capitalizing all fixed assets at cost in excess of $2,000 with an estimated useful life in excess of one year. Depreciation of buildings and improvements are provided for over the estimated useful life, ranging from ten to forty years, of the respective assets, on a straight-line basis.

Contributed Facilities and Services

COIDA, with the consent of the Board of Representatives from Otsego County, is authorized to use and has shared county employees, facilities, and equipment and may reimburse the county an agreed upon proportion of the compensation or costs of the services provided. COIDA paid no expenses to Otsego County in 2014 and 2013. As of April 1, 2014, COIDA was no longer sharing facilities or using county employees to operate the organization.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the report period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Revenue and Expense Classification

COIDA distinguishes operating revenues and expenses from non-operating items in its financial statements. Operating revenues and expenses generally result from providing services in connection with COIDA's principal on-going operations. COIDA's operating expenses include project program costs and related administration expenses. All revenues and expenses not meeting this definition are reported as non-operating revenues and expenses.

NOTE 11 OUTSTANDING CIVIC FACILITY REVENUE BONDS

Structured similar to industrial revenue bonds, civic facility bonds are tax-exempt bonds issued for projects undertaken by not-for-profit “civic facilities” owned or occupied by not-for-profit corporations organized and existing under the laws of or authorized to conduct activities in New York State. COIDA is no longer able to provide civic facility bond financing since Section 854 of the NYS General Municipal Law expired. Otsego County Capital Resource Corporation (OCCRC) will now facilitate for issuance of civic facility revenue bonds for eligible organizations throughout the county.

NOTE 12 OUTSTANDING INDUSTRIAL REVENUE BOND AND NOTE TRANSACTIONS

Certain industrial development revenue bonds and notes issued by COIDA are secured by property that is leased to companies and is retired by lease payments. The bonds and notes are not obligations of COIDA or the State of New York. COIDA does not record the assets or liabilities resulting from completed bond and note issued in its accounts, since its primary function is to arrange the financing between the borrowing companies and the bond and note holders, and funds arising therefrom are controlled by trustees or banks acting as fiscal agents. For providing this service, COIDA receives bond administration fees from the borrowing companies. This administrative fee income is recognized immediately upon issuance of bonds and notes. Since its inception, COIDA has issued various bonds and notes under these and similar arrangements.

NOTE 13 FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS WITH CONCENTRATION OF CREDIT RISK

Cash and Cash Equivalents

State statutes govern COIDA’s investment policies. In addition, COIDA has its own written investment policy. COIDA monies must be deposited in FDIC insured commercial banks or trust companies located within New York State. The treasurer is authorized to use demand accounts and certificates of deposit. Permissible investments include obligations of the U.S. Treasury, and obligations of New York State or its localities.

Collateral is required for demand deposits and certificates of deposit not covered by federal deposit insurance. Obligations that may be pledged as collateral are obligations to the United States and its agencies and obligations of New York State and its municipalities and school districts.

Total financial institution balances at December 31, 2014 and 2013 were either covered by FDIC insurance or collateralized by securities.

Notes Receivable

Notes receivable consists of numerous notes with businesses in Otsego County. COIDA has collateralized its interest in these notes by retaining the reversionary rights to the property or by acquiring additional liens and mortgages on the property.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER
FINANCIAL REPORTING AND ON COMPLIANCE AND OTHER MATTERS BASED ON AN AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED IN ACCORDANCE WITH GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

To the Board of Directors
County of Otsego Industrial Development Agency
242 Main Street
Oneonta, New York

We have audited in accordance with the auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards issued by the Comptroller General of the United States, the financial statements of County of Otsego Industrial Development Agency ("COIDA") which comprise the statements of net position as of and for the year ended December 31, 2014, and the related statements of revenues, expenses and changes in net position and statements of cash flows for the year then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements, and have issued our report thereon dated March 30, 2015.

Internal Control over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audits of the financial statements, we considered COIDA's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) to determine the audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances for the purpose of expressing our opinions on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of COIDA's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of COIDA's internal control.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct, misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of COIDA's financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph of this section and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses or significant deficiencies and therefore, material weaknesses or significant deficiencies may exist that were not identified. Given these limitations, during our audits we did not identify any deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be material weaknesses. However, material weaknesses may exist that have not been identified.

Compliance and Other Matters

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether COIDA's financial statements are free from material misstatement, we performed tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts and grant agreements, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance or other matters that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards.

Purpose of this Report

The purpose of this report is solely to describe the scope of our testing of internal control and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the effectiveness of COIDA's internal control or on compliance. This report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards in considering COIDA's internal control and compliance. Accordingly, this communication is not suitable for any other purpose.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of County of Otsego Industrial Development Agency's audit committee, management, State of New York, and pass-through entities and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
